Fully 1,500 people were present at League Park yesterday afternoon to witness the game of baseball between Portsmouth and the locals. The game was not the only attraction. There was a continuous performance in the way of pugilistic bouts, dirty ball playing and a general exhibition of rowdiness. The left field bleachers were packed to their full capacity, and late arrivals were compelled to sit on the grass just back of the players' bench. It was from this source that most of the rowdiness materialized. There were numerous rooters for both teams in the crowd, and free rough and tumble fights were pulled off at the rate of three per inning for several innings. The police had a nice time in endeavoring to keep order, and they certainly earned their salary for their efforts, notwithstanding they were fatigued.

The game was not called on schedule time owing to the inability to secure some one to officiate as umpire. After the loss of considerable time the services of Mr. McGuirk, a former league umpire, were secured and the battle began. The game itself was not the best exhibition ever seen on the home grounds, although there were many pretty plays by both teams. Sullivan, the third baseman for the "Phonies," carried off the honors in the fielding line, while Pulsifer, also of the locals, was the master with the stick. This clever young player smashed the ball clear over Person's head in centerfield and traveled the circuit of the bases. Longley, the left fielder of "Brady's Band of Boers," led his team in fielding, which at times was of the sensational order. Portsmouth's made most of their runs in the third inning, when two triples, a double and a single netted four runs. Norfolk clinched the game in the seventh inning when, on a double, two singles and an error by Myers, three runs were scored. Portsmouth scored another in the ninth inning and the game ended with Norfolk, 8; Portsmouth, 6.

The tabulated score, which appears below, will tell how it was done:

COATED

Look at your tongue. Is it coated? Then you have a bad taste in your mouth every morning. Your appetite is poor, and food distresses you. You have frequent headaches and are often dizzy. Your stomach is weak and your bowels are constipated. There's a reliable cure:

WATER'S PINK PILLS

Don't take a cathartic dose and then stop. Better take a laxative dose each night, just enough to cause one good free movement the day following. You feel better the very next day. Your appetite returns, your dyspepsia is cured, your headaches pass away, your tongue clears up, your liver acts free. 25c. All druggists.

BASEBALL AT BOYKINS.

Boykins, Va., May 30.—Weldon and Boykins played a game of baseball yesterday. The teams were about evenly matched, especially noticeable for their chief characteristic of kicking and slugging. At the close of the sixth inning the umpire made a decision which was clearly right, and which the players, for which the Weldon team left the field, saying they would not play any more. The umpire then declared the score 9 to 0 in favor of Boykins. The total number of runs made, however, was 9 for Boykins to Weldon's 6.

The battery work of Hugh Knight and Cleaves was of the brilliant order. Hugh Knight made the only home run of the game. All the Boykins team did well. Kelly, of the Weldon team, deserves special mention for a phenomenal catch of a high liner.

Very few of the Weldon team or visitors sustained their boys in their rude and silly work. Harrison and Cleary being the leaders of the latter class. The Weldon team, however, has some excellent players and very pleasant gentlemen on it. The cause of the final kick and leaving the field was as follows: Boykins' first man up got out on strikes; the second made a safe hit, reaching first; the third man batted a ground ball to Weldon's second baseman, Harrison, who was playing fifteen feet off his base and near the line from first to second. He ran across the line with the ball in his hand, then threw it first to intercept Boykins' base runner going to first. During this play Boykins' man at first made second. Harrison and Cleary claimed that the man out Harrison had never been nearer than six feet to his base and did not touch the base runner. This silly trick did not go with the umpire.

The home team never questioned the umpire's decision, though knowing the all doubts were given against them. They were also free from slugging or rude behavior. The team was composed of home boys entirely.
